Disciplinary action against Club members, including expulsion without notice, may be taken for offences of misconduct or breach of club's rules.

However it is recognised and accepted that every member

- Has the right to expect fair and consistent treatment
- Has the right to adequate notice from the Club
- Has the right to appeal against the Club decision
- Has the right to representation
- No member will be expelled for the first breach of Club's rules except in cases of "gross misconduct". However all disciplinary actions taken by Kinross Cycling Club will be duly recorded and placed on file for reference at a future date.

1. Offences Leading to Disciplinary Action

The under noted actions by members may be interpreted by the Committee to fall within this the rules of the club.

However the lists are not to be considered as fully inclusive or covering all possible offences.

“Misconduct” is the carrying out of an offence considered to be of a minor nature (unless frequently repeated) and will normally incur a verbal or possibly a written warning from the Club together with clear instructions as to what should not be undertaken again.

Examples of offences that may be considered misconduct include: -

- Failure to comply with or adhere to the relevant code of conduct for their position within the club
- Any other actions of similar gravity to the above, at the discretion of the Elected Officers.

Repetition of the above offences or failure or comply with any demands made in writing by the Club may result in further action by the committee involving a disciplinary hearing.

“Serious Misconduct” is the carrying out of an offence of such gravity that in the opinion of the committee it warrants a “Kinross Cycling Club Disciplinary Hearing”.

Examples of offences which may be considered as serious misconduct include: -

- Misconduct offences above if specially grave or repeated
- Deliberate or consistent breaches of club rules

“Gross Misconduct” is action of such seriousness that the Elected Officers will require the immediate expulsion of the offender from the Club. The Elected Officers may by means of an executive decision summarily expel such an offender without invoking a disciplinary hearing. The expelled member will have the right to a disciplinary hearing as soon as this can be arranged but will remain expelled until and unless such a hearing overturns the executive decision.

Examples of gross misconduct are:-

2. Disciplinary Procedure

On receipt of a written complaint from a member, an other cycling club, Scottish cycling, a cycling event organiser or any other party the Elected Officers with advice from a Legal Advisor should they so wish, will decide whether the complaint falls within the scope of this disciplinary code. If in their opinion it does, then the Elected Officers will decide as to the type of offence as per (section 1) above.

If the offence is considered to be one of simple misconduct, the Club Secretary will write to the offender with a formal written warning including the demand for an apology or other corrective action the Elected Officers may deem appropriate. The Elected Officers will also attempt to obtain approval for their action from the complainant.

A disciplinary file will be opened by the Elected Officers in which will be placed copies and records of the original complaint, together with the written warning and any other correspondence.

The action outlines above will normally finalise the process unless any of the parties involved object strongly to the Elected Officers decision in which case they may appeal.

Should the complaint be considered by the Elected Officers as one of serious misconduct, then the following procedure will be implemented: -

- The Elected Officers will appoint an Investigating Officer who will research evidence presented and, if possible, will obtain further written evidence, witness statements, etc.
- If necessary the Investigating Officer will consult all relevant witnesses for supportive evidence

- Contact the member subject of the complaint to advise of the official complaint and request the member to submit a written statement of events
- In cases of disputes of a personal nature, the Elected Officers will attempt to resolve the situation amicably and to the mutual satisfaction of the parties concerned.
- If settlement cannot be agreed between the parties, or if the offence merits it, then a disciplinary hearing will be arranged as soon as possible.
- Contact the Club's Legal Advisor if required and supply copies of all evidence
