CYCLING CLUB

On an evening when the rain clouds threatened, 20 member and guest riders signed on for the second and final Loch Leven TT of the season. As the riders each pulled away onto the course, the wind increased and riders dug deep to complete the course before the rain came. In the end, the evening was a great success with all riders home and dry.

Well done to all riders and it was great to see so many out and taking part. Thankyou to all our helpers tonight and as we move into the closing events, no doubt the marshall numbers will increase slightly as some look to unlock their points! A reminder that a working and bright back light is a MUST this year and especially as we now move to the final few riders and we loose the strong evening light.
