Loch Leven Time Trial

Thursday 16th June 2011

12.55 miles – 20km

Records again tumbled in the 2nd of this year's Loch Leven Time Trials (LLTT) and the 4th of 8 counting events in the clubs new initiative, the 'Grand Prix Series'. A record turn out of 24 riders - nearly 50% of members - was excellent and makes organizing a time trial so much more worthwhile. The threatening rain held off till all were home though conditions for the ride were quite windy. Maybe a south westerly helps this course but never the less it was pretty much straight on the nose for the last 2 k which does not help tiring legs.
Congratulations to Angus McCulloch on reducing the course record down to 32min 18sec. Lance once said 'It's not about the bike' but I am not totally convinced.?? Ken O was also on course for a sub 33min and having a personal battle with Alan Corsie but punctured after hitting a pot hole in the last K but still made a spirited dash for the line in his socks and managed to come in 14th slot to claim some Grand Prix points. A few new faces turned out and welcome to Simon Finch and apologies if it was not a warm welcome on the night as you caught me checking times, holding bikes steady, calling countdowns etc. I hope you will be out on some our Sunday rides when it is somewhat more relaxed to chat. Alan C had a stunning ride and was up towards the fast new boys Kyle S and Andy B.
Rowland K and Donny M laid down impressive markers for their first Time Trial and it will be interesting to see what times they may achieve at the next outing around the Loch.
I suspect Gillian found the wind troubling plus dropping her pump certainly breaks concentration. Andy L was out for the first time with the club trying his hand away from his current good running form. Stuart H and Grant Y were solid as ever with strong times whilst Roddy had picked up a bug and was not 100% despite all you read about watt bikes.
Thanks to Carolanne and Veronica for keeping a ladies presence and a mention to James Connelly who is lying 12th in the Grand Prix and shows what can be achieve by supporting all the club events.

Keep spinning
