Loch Leven Time Trial

Thursday 28th July 2011

12.55 miles – 20km

Steady rain all day did not give way and the 6th event in the Grand prix series was held in grey drizzle. The miserable weather kept quite a few away and with the Corsie's on holiday the 17 members who turned out had a good chance to gain a few extra points for the GP series. The winner was our new rising star Donnie McLeod who got to within14 seconds of the course record. Angus McCulloch without his TT bike was pushed into second place with John Gallacher having his usual strong ride coming in third. Andy Bruce in 4th place was one of the few to improve their LLTT time despite the poor conditions. Is there more to come from him? Rolly Kitson came in 5th place following his recent training camp in the alps followed by Stewart Herd who had a storming ride to finish just ahead of our Presidente doc Roddy P. Ken O who had signed the course decided to save his energy and poottled round in just over 37 mins. Paul Hutton was kind enough to say I had accidentally knocked a minute off his time ... I hope I would be as honest!!! Trevor Keer went through the motions and gained some valuable points. I think Simon Finch improved his time and came in under the 40 min mark while Grant was disappointed to just creep over this figure. I am sure Chris Rowland and Ian Duncan will next year get under the 40min barrier if they keep up their cycling. Paul Z and John McKay brought up the lantern rouge. No ladies out tonight. I guess they have more sense and it certainly saves on bike cleaning. Well done to all who made the effort to turn out and support this event... It is appreciated. Many thanks to Ken Ogilvie for undertaking a risk assessment of the course and putting out (and taking down) a large number of safety signs round the circuit. This definitely improves our image and provides a better event to members.

Keep the cadence high
